Cleaning the Augean Stables

The world view of the goings on in the largest (head-count-wise) Democracy globally and its people makes a fascinating read. If one takes the trouble of recording such views, expressed by both persons with opportunity to know first hand the happenings and those who either read reports in the media or hear from others during formal as well as informal interaction, one is both amazed and annoyed with the major players in action behind the goings on, whom we have been identifying as politicians, a euphemistic term for those who should more appropriately be described as vote-seekers in polls to the democratically elected bodies from the Nation's Parliament down to Gram Panchayats, not to forget Municipal Councils and Corporations of Urban Local Bodies such as in Mysuru. Cashing on money, mostly tainted, spent virtually like water in free-flowing river and large following of activists, who take their turn to emulate their leaders are the order of the day, with the Election Commission of India lording over the proceedings, resulting in you-know-how-fair the polls take place. At the end of this periodically staged show, the land's people are staring at their country likened to the Augean Stables figuring in Greek Mythology.

While, according to legend, Hercules was ordered to clean out the filthy stalls of the stables housing a large herd of cattle and had not been cleaned for years, the phrase 'Clean the Augean Stable' most often means, in our times particularly, 'clear away corruption' or 'perform a large and unpleasant task that has long called for attention.' The Nation's political scenario and its dramatis personae, unmistakably, are to be found, in abundance, in the Nation's Augean Stables, awaiting action to clean it.

The land's currently estimated electorate of nearly 900 million, still counting, seem to play their part in the democracy upto and until they cast their votes at the hustings. Thereafter, they have no option other than becoming mute witness to the game of democracy as played by their elected (as well as rejected, thanks to NOTA option) representatives with no holds barred. The biggest chink in the democratic mode of forming successive governments seems to be absence of a system that gives opportunity to the electorate to first identify their worthy representative before casting of votes either favouring or rejecting. The profile of candidates whose name appears on the EVM doesn't require to be elaborated in this column.

The first paragraph of a news appearing in a widely read broadsheet a few days ago, reproduced here says it all: "The Supreme Court on Tuesday (August 21, 2018) proposed to make political parties accountable for criminalising politics by welcoming crooks who may later win elections on party ticket and grab power." The matter of cleaning Augean Stables shall remain in the people's court until the cows come home, and shall never be heard, forget a verdict after hearing!

COUNCIL CONUNDRUM: Vice-President M. Venkaiah Naidu on Tuesday called for re-framing of the rules of procedure of the Rajya Sabha to restore its prestige. Naidu, who is also the Rajya Sabha Chairman, asked political parties to forge a consensus on a National Policy for Legislative Councils in the States, saying that people feel these Councils exist to "rehabilitate" politicians who don't get elected. Only seven of the 29 States have Legislative Councils. Incidentally, the Leader of the House in Rajya Sabha, Arun Jaitley, has never won a Lok Sabha election. In the Opposition, former Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh is also a Rajya Sabha Member who has never won a Lok Sabha election. Naidu himself has been a member of the Andhra Pradesh Legislative Assembly for two terms, but never won a Lok Sabha election. — In Business Standard.

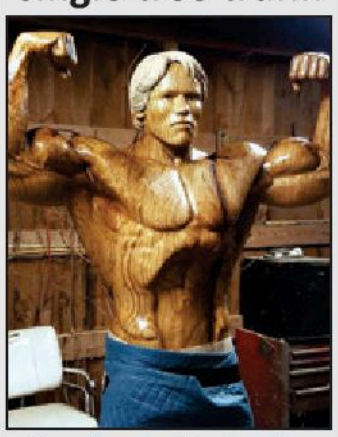
Paraglider who flies low shouting insults

Bexhill-on-Sea: People of Bexhill-on-Sea, in the UK, had to put up with the antics of an "evil" paraglider who likes to intimidate them by flying super low over their heads and shouting all kinds of insults.

Sussex Police and the Civil Aviation Authority launched a joint investigation into the behavior of the so-called "Bexhill Birdman", who many have described as a social nuisance. Police have received more than a dozen complaints regarding his behavior in the past two years, and have urged the public to come forth with any information they may have on this issue.

The paragliding man is suspected of acting hostile to members of the public, flying really low over their heads to intimidate them and shouting insults and obscenities from the air. Some locals have become so wary of him that they avoid going up Galley Hill, where he usually takes off from.

Life-size wooden sculpture from single tree trunk



New Jersey: Wood sculptor James O'Neal has sculpted a life-size sculpture of Hollywood icon and bodybuilder Arnold Schwarzenegger out of a single black oak trunk.

Standing at 1.88 meters, the statue took O'Neal six months to complete, and bears an uncanny resemblance to the "Austrian Oak" in his prime years, when he won back to back Mr Olympia titles.

From his signature vacuum pose, to his 70's hairdo and even the veins on his arms, the sculpture captures the look of Arnold Schwarzenegger almost to perfection. The entire process of shaping the black oak trunk into an ultra-realistic sculpture of the bodybuilding legend was documented on James O'Neal's Instagram.

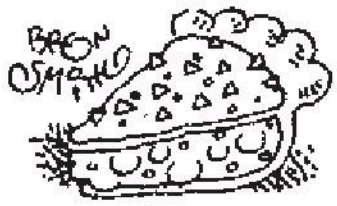
How can I make healthy desserts for holiday meals?



When baking holiday desserts, sweeten them with natural healthy sweeteners: Stevia, monk fruit, erythritol or xylitol. I had a thanksgiving pumpkin cheesecake pie today, sweetened with stevia and monk fruit. It was scrumptious... hard to believe it didn't contain a single granule of sugar.

The mighty monkey God, Hanuman reaches Lanka after crossing the ocean. After killing Dhwara Palike Lankini, Hanuman meets Sitadevi in Ashokavana and presents the signature ring of Rama for identity and later destroys the beautiful Ashoka Garden.

Seeing this, Ravana's son Indrajith imprisons Hanuman and Ravana orders to light fire to Hanuman's tail, who in turn burns the entire Lanka city and its neighbouring area. He later flies back to Sri Rama and gives the tidings of Sitadevi to him.

Anti-Poaching Camp opened at Veeranahosahalli

The camp to control poaching has been named after Forest Officer S. Manikandan who was killed by a wild tusker

S. Manikandan

Bengaluru, Sept.12 (Mahesh&BCT)- An Anti-Poaching Camp, named after S. Manikandan, Conservator of Forests and the Director of the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve, who was trampled by a wild tusker at the Doddabyrana Kuppe Forests on the World Wildlife Day on Mar.3 this year, was inaugurated yesterday on the Forest Martyrs Day at Veeranahosahalli Wildlife Range in Nagarahole Tiger Reserve.

Director of the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve and Conservator of Forests R. Ravishankar, who succeeded Manikandan, inaugurated the Anti-Poaching Camp and recalled the services of his predecessor.

The idea of establishing an anti-poaching camp at Veeranahosahalli was mooted by Manikandan to prevent the entry of poachers and tribals into the core area of the forests. Accordingly, Range Forest Officer (RFO) M.K. Madhusudhan established the centre where there is 24x7 vigil. The centre was effective and ever since it has been established, poaching and the entry of tribals through that range, has reduced.

Forest officials then decided to construct a permanent structure with all facilities and accordingly, the structure was built and it has now been named after Manikandan. The building has two floors. While the ground floor will be used as an accommodation facility with kitchen for Forest Officers, the first floor has the facility of keeping round-the-clock vigil.

High-resolution Binoculars will be installed at vantage points on the first floor and the sections have facilities to hold seminars and workshops. Earlier, there were no water facilities to the Anti-Poaching Camp. But now a borewell has been sunk to supply water to the unit. Apart from supplying water to the building, the borewell has the capacity to supply water to neighbouring tanks and waterholes.

A view of the building that houses Anti-Poaching Camp.

At the inauguration of the Anti-Poaching Camp yesterday, Conservator of Forests Ravishankar said that Manikandan had served at the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve for two years. He played a major role in moving the safari from the core area to Veeranahosahalli Wildlife Range.

"Manikandan was instrumental in getting sponsorships to drill borewells in areas which had almost gone dry by organising solar pump-sets to draw water. Rain water feeder channels were dug to divert rain water to lakes which had dried over the years and as a result, most lakes are now full due to Manikandan's initiative," he said.

Manikandan was also responsible for introducing the 'Gusth App' at the entry and exit points of Nagarahole National Park which monitors entry and exit of vehicles and keeps track of them which go astray or go for joy ride inside the Park, he added.

Assistant Conservator of Forests S.R. Prasanna Kumar, RFOs M.K. Madhusudhan, Shivaram and Surendra were present during the programme.

VOICE OF THE READER

Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar's birth centenary: Make a beginning

Sir,

Sri Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar, the last king of Mysore, has been dear to all Mysureans because of his royal bearing of dignity, generosity and culture. He was a true heir of his uncle Rajarshi, Nalwadi. It is heartening to know that now is the beginning of Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar's centenary.

He happens to be a people's king who belonged to a great tradition of the Wadiyar family that made Mysore a model State in our country. The Central government should have issued a stamp in his honour, it can still do it. The State government should have organised various functions to celebrate the event. The Palace family at least should have evinced some interest in the context. But it is shocking and painful that the Maharaja's new statue at the Hardinge Circle in city looks mute and abandoned.

Let the concerned citizens wake up and try to pay gratitude to the king with extraordinary talent for music, literature and arts. What a stunningly handsome young prince he was and no Indian king looked like one in his costume as our Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar did !

I have a special reason to sound emotional as he was friendly with my father Prof. C.D. Narasimhaiah and we have rare photographs of both of them at Maharaja's College and Yale University.

In this week's Pet Talk,
Maneka tells how squirrels help in growing trees, how non-vegetarian dog can be made a vegetarian and about dog's vision.

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

Is it true that dogs can only see black and white?

Veterinarians used to believe that dogs saw only in black and white, but recent studies suggest that they have colour vision. As it turns out, dogs have only 20% of the cone photoreceptor cells — the part of the eye that controls the perception of colour — that humans have. While we can't ask dogs to read an eye chart or pick out colours, behavioural tests suggest that dogs see in shades of yellow and blue, and lack the ability to see the range of colours from green to red. In other words, dogs see the colours of the world as basically yellow, blue, and grey. Red is difficult for dogs to see and may appear to them as a very dark brownish grey or even black.

How do squirrels help in growing trees?

Squirrels dig holes in lawns and gardens in search of roots, stems, bark, shoots, leaves, flowers, fruit, and nuts. They hide supplies, burying nuts and seeds to help them survive winters. Because squirrels often fail to reclaim the buried food, abandoned seeds and nuts often take root, establishing trees and other plants in new locations. Thus, squirrels play a vital role in sustaining and expanding plant communities and ecosystems.

Is it true that cows have "best friends"?

Yes, cows, like humans, have best friends and are inseparable. When a cows are apart from the best friend for extended periods of time they become depressed. Cows are highly sociable animals that experience stress when they are isolated. Not only are cows more calm when they're around a buddy, but they're actually smarter too. Scientists tracked the heart rate and cortisol levels of cows when they were with or apart from other members of their herd. What the report found was that cows who were isolated showed significant signs of stress, which ultimately negatively impacted the amount of milk they produced. When heifers have their preferred partner with them, their stress levels, in terms of their heart rates, are reduced, compared with if they were with a random individual.

If a dog has been non-vegetarian since birth, will he be reluctant to eat vegetarian food?

No, a non-vegetarian dog can become vegetarian, but it will take time. It is better to keep reducing the meat content and increasing the vegetables, grain, curd and soya while giving just a little bit of boiled meat soup, so that he gets the flavour. That can be reduced in time as well.

Do you consider oxen being hit by sticks to pull bullock carts as animal abuse?

Anything that hurts an animal is abuse. This is the law: Any person who shall drive, ride, load, or otherwise, cause to labour, any animal which a hurt, or a wound, or lameness, or excessive leanness, has rendered unfit for labour, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine. If he is caught in the second offence, then he will not be allowed to keep an animal again. Hence, oxen being hit by sticks to pull bullock carts is an animal abuse.

Do animals beat their kids too?

Animals like dogs, cats, lions etc., both male and female, will take a swipe at their babies when they get fed up with being jumped on and having their tails bitten. All animal parents that live in groups are strict disciplinarians with the children.

Can deer be kept as pets?

No. You cannot give a natural habitat to the animals, or provide a mate. Deer are extremely sensitive and die easily.

Can snakes be kept as pets?

Snakes have specialised needs. They require precise diet and spectrum lighting. They shun contact with humans, and being held, touched, petted, or passed around is stressful and leaves them prone to illness and injury. And since snakes don't whine or yelp, injuries may go unnoticed and untreated. Snakes are relegated to aquariums when kept as pets in which they can't even stretch out to full length, much less move around or climb. It's believed that most of these newly acquired animals die from stress related to captivity. Many are simply tossed outside like trash, left to starve, or die of exposure or predation — and those who survive may wreak havoc on local ecosystems. It is illegal under the Wildlife Protection Act 1972 to keep snakes. They are extremely important in the wild and should be left there.

Another Jackal dies in roadkill near Gangothri

Mysuru, Sept.12 (MTY&BNR)- An Indian Jackal was killed in a road accident (roadkill) last night near the Amphitheatre outside Manasagangothri Campus on the road connecting Bogadi and Hunsur Highway. An eyewitness said that a speeding two-wheeler hit the Jackal which died on the spot.

On receiving information and following directions from DCFs Siddramappa Chalkapure and Dr. K.T. Hanumanthappa, RFO Devaraju, who visited the spot, took the carcass for post-mortem.

The Jackal is a sub-adult male. A few of the wildlife watchers have seen Jackals breeding in Kukkarahalli Lake premises.

The traffic is dense on this road and late in the night, people drive very fast as there are no barricades but only a few road humps, which results in many accidents, says environmentalists.

It may be recalled that a similar roadkill was reported on the same spot on Aug.16, 2017.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning regarding the steps to be taken to avoid roadkills in future, DCF Siddramappa Chalkapure said that they would hold discussions and submit a proposal to Police department to install speed-breakers as animals such as civet cats, jackals, rabbits are found crossing the road. Also, the matter would be brought to the notice of University authorities, he added.

Iconic elephant sculpture at Highway Circle vandalised again

The statue before vandalism.

The sculpture after it was disfigured last night.

Mysuru, Sept. 12 (KS)- The iconic elephant sculpture fountain, a gift by the Brigade Group, at Maulana Abul Kalam Azad Circle, popularly known as 'Highway Circle,' which already has been subjected to repeated vandalism by political parties and private organisations by sticking posters, has been vandalised yet again for the third time.

This time it is not disfigured by sticking posters, but the flower structure on top of the sculpture and the elephant head towards the north side has been broken.

According to sources, some persons had climbed atop the sculpture to install decorated lights between 10.30 pm and 11.30 pm last night, during which the floral structure broke and fell, bringing along the elephant head and also the person on top. The person suffered severe injuries.

The staff of Grand Mercure, a hotel by the Brigade Group, who noticed the vandalism, informed Mandi Police, who rushed to the spot and inspected. The Mandi Police is said to have told the hotel staff to also inform N.R. Police as there is a confusion about the jurisdiction of the Circle.

Meanwhile, Shashikiran, HR Manager of Grand Mercure told SOM that earlier, a truck had rammed into the Circle destroying the iron grills. Luckily, the sculpture was not damaged then, he added.

He further said that they contacted the authorities concerned in this regard and later, Brigade Group got the Circle repaired. But now, the sculpture itself has been damaged by vandals, he added.

Shashikiran further said that they would file a complaint with the jurisdictional Police.

B.R. Suchendra, Branch Head, Brigade Groups, Mysuru, speaking to Star of Mysore said that as per the letter from the MCC, Brigade Groups was given permission to develop the circle and maintain it for 11 months, which they did and after that it is the responsibility of the MCC to maintain it.

Suchendra further said that be it MCC or Brigade Group, it is also the responsibility of everyone to safeguard all public structures of the city and help the civic authorities in maintaining the beauty of our heritage city.

The Circle was being maintained by Brigade Group, which gifted this sculpture with the fountain costing about Rs. 25 lakh to our city. The Group maintained it from 2016 to 2017 and later it was the responsibility of the civic authorities to maintain the Circle and see to it that such vandalism does not recur which mars the beauty of Heritage City.

Following vandalisation of the sculpture and publication of a letter titled 'Elephant Circle vandalised yet again. Will City Corporation act?' (Star of Mysore dated June 27, 2017) and KBG's 'Point Blank' titled 'Vandalising iconic public sculptures, buildings etc.' (SOM dated June 28, 2017), the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Public Relations Officer, in a press release, had clarified that the civic body has been conserving the beauty of the city and cases have been registered at various Police Stations against organisations found disfiguring public places under Prevention of Disfigurement Act, 1981. But till today it is not known whatever happened to these cases, if at all they were filed.

The Act states that such an act is a crime and the offenders could be sentenced to one year imprisonment along with penalty.

Historic Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry campus to house Maharani's College Hostel

Heritage Choultry will not be demolished; one acre behind it will be utilised to build hostel

A view of the Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry, popular as N.R. Choultry, on Vinoba Road in city. Picture right shows the unauthorised houses and buildings on the campus behind the Choultry. These houses will be cleared to build a hostel for Maharani's Women's Arts College.

Mysuru, Sept. 12 (RK&BCT)- Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy has said that the campus of century-old Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry on Vinoba Road will be utilised to expand the Maharani's Women's Arts College. A hostel for the students will be built in a one-acre plot behind the Choultry and the State Government already possesses the land, he said.

Kumaraswamy was speaking after inaugurating the Cultural Forum of the Maharani's College in city yesterday. "Maharani's College was established in 1902. Thousands of students study here and the college has infrastructural issues as it is impossible to provide all the facilities within the existing premises. To solve this, we need space in the heart of the city and since the Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry is diagonally opposite to the College, it is most suited for expansion," he said.

The Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry was built 150 years ago and earlier, it was maintained by the Municipal Administration. At present, it is managed by Sri Nanjaraja Bahadur Chatra Managing Committee that has been constituted under the Muzrai Department. The Choultry was built with an intention to provide affordable accommodation to thousands of tourists who visit city.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, C. Krishnappa, President of Sri Nanjaraja Bahadur Chatra Managing Committee, said that the Choultry has 10 acres under its possession and it operates on no-profit-no-loss basis. "While some of the properties have been leased out by the State government way back in 1975, some are under litigation. We will have to take back the land and the Committee has already sent a proposal to the government not to renew any lease," he said.

The Hostel for Maharani's Women's Arts College will be built in one acre of land behind the Choultry where earlier Beggars' Colony existed. "The Nanjaraja Bahadur Choultry will not be demolished at any cost as it is a heritage structure. We will retain the building and utilise the space behind the Choultry to construct the Hostel," he said.

It may be recalled here that a section of the press had reported that the Choultry will be demolished to make way for the College Hostel. "There are no demolition plans," Krishnappa clarified.

The entire 10-acre land belongs to the government and at present, it houses the Information Department, Mayura Hotel owned by the Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation (KSTDC), a Garage, two service stations-cum-petrol pumps and an old weighbridge. There are a few houses that have been occupied by the members of State Government Employees Association, he said. "We have leased out the land for a private hotel too, and the lease expires next year," he added.

The agreement to hand over one-acre of land behind the Choultry to Maharani's Women's Arts College was finalised during the previous Congress regime and the present government must take it forward, Krishnappa added. All the unauthorised occupants will be cleared to build the Hostel, he said.

Gowri-Ganesha Fest pervades city

Even as the women offer Bagina and Rs.10, the priests in the temple tie kankana (a string of flowers) on them.

Rush in Market: Even as many are celebrating the Gowri festival, people were seen thronging the Devaraja Market for last minute purchase for the Ganesha festival tomorrow.

Many were seen buying both Gowri and Ganesha idols. People from villages had come even on bullock carts to purchase Ganesha idols of three to four feet. A few who had probably ordered for five feet Ganesha idol (though it is banned) were seen carrying it to install in their villages.

Since the days of making festival delicacies at home are long gone, readymade chakkuli, kodbale and modaka, all very favourite savouries to Lord Ganesh, were briskly being sold at the bakeries and condiment stores.

On the main streets, the flower vendors and fruit sellers were seen attracting the customers. However, the sale in the morning had come down and the flower sellers who hoped to make a kill by selling that at more prices had to be satisfied by bringing the price down. A standard length of Chrysanthemum (Sevanthige) flowers which was being sold yesterday at Rs.80 was now being sold at Rs.60 and even less.

The eco-friendly Gowri-Ganesha idols are being installed in many places including K.T. Street, Vontikoppal, Kuvempunagar, Siddarthanagar and other areas. As the sale of Plaster of Paris (PoP) Ganeshas has been banned, the clay idols are being sold at a higher cost. For instance, a one foot to one-and-a-half foot clay Ganesh is being sold at Rs.200 to Rs.250, whereas the PoP Ganesha cost 30 to 40 percent less.

Central team arrives in Kodagu to take stock of flood situation

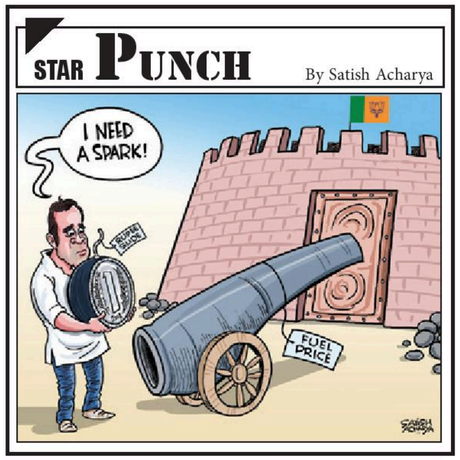
Kushalnagar, Sept.12 (AG&DM)- A three-member Central team arrived in Kodagu today to analyse the havoc caused by floods and landslides across the district last month.

The Central Committee comprising Anil Mallick, Jitender Panwar and Dr. Ponuswamy will conduct an inspection at Harangi Dam near Kushalnagar this afternoon to take stock of the situation.

The team met Kodagu District in-charge Minister S.R. Mahesh, Mysuru Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, Deputy Commissioner P.I. Sreevidya and other officials.

The team, after inspecting Harangi reservoir, is likely to visit flood-ravaged places such as Makkandur, Madapura, Mukkodlu and Tantipala villages, following which the team members will gather information from the officials at the DC office in Madikeri later this evening. The Central team will also carry out inspection on Thursday as well, it is learnt.

It may be mentioned here that Prime Minister Narendra Modi during the meeting with a delegation headed by Karnataka CM H.D. Kumaraswamy in New Delhi on Monday (Sept.10) had promised to send a Central team to Kodagu to assess the damage caused by the disaster.



MLA Ramdas writes to CM on cutting cess on fuels

Mysuru, Sept. 12- MLA and former Minister S.A. Ramdas has written a open letter to Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy urging him to reduce State cess on petrol and diesel prices by Rs. 3 a litre.

In his letter, Ramdas alleged that the Congress which ruled the Country for nearly 6 decades post independence had done little for making the Country self-reliant on fuel.

Pointing out that International crude oil prices have been steadily rising, Ramdas noted that India was importing 82 percent of its fuel needs from other countries.

Dos and Don'ts for Ganesha Fest

City Police issue strict guidelines

Mysuru, Sept.12- As the Heritage City readies to plunge into the festive season beginning with Ganesha Chaturthi on Sept.13, the City Police have issued strict guidelines to ensure smooth conduct of the celebrations.

They have also clamped strict restrictions on the use of loudspeakers during the pujas. The sound limits should be adhered to the stipulated 65 decibel. No use of loudspeaker or sound system would be allowed after 10 pm while all melodies and other entertainment programmes would also be packed up by 10 pm. The pendals would be kept under check to prevent any violation, said a press release issued from the Office of the City Police Commissioner.

No noise pollution

Loudspeaker volume should be reduced to ensure that senior citizens, school children and patients in nearby hospitals are not disturbed. If a VIP is participating in any programme, local Police should be informed for providing additional security.

The restrictions also apply to the immersion ceremony wherein bands would not be allowed to exceed the 65 decibel sound limit. Bands without sound limiters have been banned. The entire immersion ceremony should also culminate before 10 pm, said a press release.

Obtain written permission

People who are installing Ganeshas at public places must obtain written permission from the jurisdictional Police. Plaster of Paris (PoP) and paper-moulded idols are banned and action will be taken against festival organisers who keep such idols. Idols must have water colours and those idols that have harmful paints will be confiscated.

Install CCTVs

Police have instructed the office-bearers of organisations to ensure that if possible, they should install CCTVs at the place of celebrations, keep a backup of the video footage, not demand donation from people forcibly and also not set up tableaux that could hurt the religious sentiments of others.

Organisers should mention the height and weight of the idol, number of days the festival is being celebrated, place and time of immersion, vehicle being used for procession, route of the procession and such other details.

Safety measures

For the safety, Police have instructed the organisers to ensure that volunteers are deployed round-the-clock for proper care of Ganesha idols. The volunteers should be appointed in three shifts and their names should be given to the Police.

There should be a good distance between the idol and the devotees. The location of the pendal should be such that there is no impediment for Police vans, ambulances or fire brigade vehicles to reach till the pendal. Also pendals must not disrupt the traffic or pedestrian movements in any way.

No entry fee

The festival organisers must not charge any entry fee from devotees to see the decorated idols. Permission from Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Company (CESC) is mandatory if the pendals are connected with electricity. Action will be taken if power is drawn from poles or transformers illegally.

Organisers are requested to depute committee members to prevent any quarrels and traffic jams at the pendals. Bursting crackers and use of chemicals and colours during the procession is strictly prohibited. Organisers and devotees have been asked to alert the Police on movement of strangers at the pendals.

Helpline for complaints

Police have also appealed to the organisers to be vigilant about unidentified objects found in pendals or the place of celebration of festival. If they come across any such articles, they should immediately report the matter to Police. The Police have also asked the organisers to adhere to the guidelines to avoid sound pollution. For any complaints, public can contact the Police on Ph: 100 or 2418139 or 2418339.

DPR on new Satellite Railway Terminal at Naganahalli to be ready by November

Mysuru, Sept.12 (NNN)-The work on the Detailed Project Report (DPR) to set up a new Satellite Railway Terminal at Naganahalli (10 kms from Mysuru Railway Station) sanctioned in 2018-19 at a cost of Rs.7.8 crore is in progress and is likely to be completed by November this year. This new terminal is sure to ease the congestion at the City Railway Station.

This was disclosed by the officials of South Western Railway (SWR) at a meeting with the Members of the Parliament (MP) R. Dhruvanarayan and Pratap Simha held at the Divisional Railway Manager's Office yesterday.

The officials informed Pratap Simha who had raised the issue that the land required for the project is assessed to be 400 acres. The facilities planned besides Station building, are six platform lines, six stabling lines, five pit lines, said SWR General Manager A.K. Gupta.

Simha suggested that land should be identified and reserved for the purpose. Since the State Government has to allot the land, Gupta said that they have asked the Government to earmark the land at the earliest, which will be followed by a joint inspection by the elected representatives soon.

Container depot at Kadakola: Pratap Simha also enquired about the status of development of Container Corporation at Kadakola. Simha was informed that it was planned to develop a container depot at a cost of Rs.22.40 crore to handle the inward and six outward rakes per month. The land acquisition has been completed and the work has been awarded by CONCOR. Meanwhile, the DPR is under examination and physical work will commence soon.

The other suggestions, which Simha made included exploring possibility of opening reservation facility of AC coaches of Malgudi Express from Mysuru to Bengaluru as they are in locked condition from Mysuru.

The Railway immediately agreed to the suggestion by opening booking for reservation to one coach to start with.

The MP also pointed out that there were no train services to Mysuru from Bengaluru after Chamundi Express till 11 pm on three days when Karwar Express is running via Yesvantpur-Hassan-Mangaluru. To this, Gupta said that MEMU (Mainline Electric Multiple Unit) services running from Bengaluru to Ramanagaram would be examined to be extended up to Mysuru.

Aesthetic upgradation of Nanjangud Station: Meanwhile, MP Dhruvanarayan called for the aesthetic upgradation of the historic Nanjangud Railway Station. Gupta informed him that the beautification of Nanjangud Station would be taken up shortly to reflect the regional importance of the town.

When he asked about the new railway line project between Chamarajanagar and Hejjala, Dhruvanarayan was informed that this 140 km line had been sanctioned at Rs.1,300 crore and the work would be taken up on a cost-sharing basis with Government of Karnataka with land to be provided by State Government.

It was announced in the meeting that the fuelling point for Hamsafar Express Train (Mysuru-Udaipur Express) was started at the Mysuru Station yesterday (Sept.11). Previously, this train was being fuelled en route from Hubballi Station and this new move of fuelling trains will facilitate trains at originating stations.

In his presentation earlier, SWR GM Gupta said that the work on electrification of Railway line on almost all sections of SWR including Mysuru Division covering Tumkuru-Hubballi, Chamarajanagar-Mysuru-Arsikere have been sanctioned.

This meeting was conducted on the direction of Minister of Railways Piyush Goyal to discuss the issues of public importance in order to help Railways to improve the functioning and services. DRM Aparna Garg welcomed. DGM E. Vijaya proposed a vote of thanks.

Kodagu train connectivity to end at Kushalnagar

Mysuru, Sept.12- The controversial Mysuru-Madikeri line, which the environmentalists are opposing strongly as it will damage the ecologically sensitive zone, will be terminated at Kushalnagar only.

This fact came to light when MP Pratap Simha enquired the status of the new line survey between Mysuru to Madikeri via Kushalnagar. He suggested that it should be restricted only to Kushalanagar to establish connectivity to Kodagu district.

Both the MPs Pratap Simha and R. Dhruvanarayan brought up this issue at the meeting of the MPs yesterday held at the DRM's Office and said that the State Government will not allow the proposed rail link to Madikeri from Thalassery in Kerala as the region is ecologically sensitive which was proved by the recent floods and landslides.

According to Simha, the project would end at Alur Siddapura, after linking Hunsur and Periyapatna. The issue had already been discussed with Railway Minister Piyush Goel and there was nothing further to discuss about the project. He, however, said that he would communicate the same through a letter in this regard.

Coalition Government under threat as Jarkiholis up pressure

Bengaluru, Sept.12- In a fresh trouble for the Congress, the Jarkiholi brothers of Belagavi have threatened to mock the JD(S)-Congress Coalition Government if the party failed to meet their demands, which include keeping Minister D.K. Shivakumar from interfering in the politics of their Belagavi fiefdom.

Ramesh and Satish Jarkiholi, who have accused Shivakumar of interfering in their backyard, through MLA Lakshmi Hebbalkar, are said to have bluntly asked the Congress High Command on Tuesday to rein in the Minister or face the consequences.

The Jarkiholis gave the Congress High Command time till Sept.16 to intervene and settle the power tussle. The Jarkiholi brothers are also said to have demanded making Satish Jarkiholi the State Party President.

Amidst all these developments, Satish Jarkiholi said that anything can happen in the next fortnight. Pointing out that the party leaders have been urged to resolve certain issues raised by them, Satish said he hoped the Congress High Command will take up the issues seriously and resolve them at the earliest. The Jarkiholis, who hold sway in Belagavi, have publicly complained over recent developments in the district. They had locked horns with party MLA Lakshmi Hebbalkar, who represents Belagavi rural, over the elections to the Primary Land Development (PLD) Bank there in which her group emerged victorious. While the Jarkiholi brothers — both congress MLAs with one a Minister — continued to talk tough with veiled threats of taking serious decisions on Sept.16 after ex-CM Siddharamaiah's return from Europe tour, hectic activities began in the BJP camp on Tuesday.

Satish Jarkiholi Lakshmi Hebbalkar Ramesh Jarkiholi

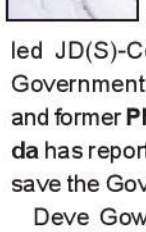
A sudden meeting of senior BJP leaders at State BJP President B.S. Yeddyurappa's (BSY) residence in the State capital, lent credence to speculations of major developments in the State politics over the next few days. Yeddyurappa called Jagadish Shettar, Govind Karjol, Umesh Katti and Shobha Karandlaje to his residence at Dollar's Colony and discussed the developments in Congress. Yeddyurappa reportedly advised the party leaders to keep away from the developments and wait for an opportune time to make the next move.

BSY is also said to have asked the BJP MLAs not to travel abroad, given the fluid political situation in the State. With 104 seats, the BJP can form the Government if a minimum of 15 MLAs from the ruling Coalition Government resign and bring down the Assembly strength to 207.

As political discontent within the Congress keeps the ruling coalition on tenterhooks, the BJP Central leadership is reportedly against its State unit fishing in troubled waters.

It is said that the hasty decision of BSY to try and form a government with only 104 MLAs, post the May 2018 Assembly polls had caused a major embarrassment to the BJP's national image. However, BSY is making efforts to approach the ruling coalition MLAs within a tight circle of his confidants, it is learnt. Amidst all these speculations, there are also rumours that the Jarkiholis and State BJP President have together been working out a plan to topple the coalition Government.

JD(S) Supremo steps in



Even as the raging controversy involving Jarkiholi brothers and Belagavi Congress MLA Lakshmi Hebbalkar is causing worry to the Kumaraswamy led JD(S)-Congress coalition Government, JD(S) Supremo and former PM H.D. Deve Gowda has reportedly stepped in to save the Govt. from collapsing.

Deve Gowda, who is maintaining close contact with the Congress High Command, is also said to be in touch with some Central BJP leaders in order to neutralise the State BJP's plans of mobilising support for forming the Government in case the coalition Government collapses. Deve Gowda is said to have gathered some documents on the efforts of BJP leaders to topple the Government and take up the issue at the national level, which can pose an embarrassment for the BJP leadership. However, the JD(S) Supremo made it clear that it will not react to the speculation that the BJP is trying to destabilise the Govt. Speaking to press persons at Holenarasipur on Tuesday, Deve Gowda said that the issue was created by the media. Pointing out that he will not blame anyone for this speculations, he said that he does not want to reply to everyone's statements.

Mysuru Silk Saree discount sale extended throughout State: CM

Mysuru, Sept.12 (YDS&NNN)- Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy launched the sale of Mysuru Silk Sarees at discount rates yesterday, thus trying to meet the aspirations of the middle class section of the society to own the famous elegant attire.

The CM distributed symbolically five Silk Sarees at the Karnataka Silk Industries Corporation (KSIC) showroom in Ittigegudu opposite the Mysuru Zoo in the afternoon. Later, Kumaraswamy speaking said that Sericulture Minister S.R. Mahesh had embarked on a new programme, in the light of the festival and saree worth Rs.15,000 was being sold at a discounted rate of Rs.4,500. In the coming days this scheme will be increased step by step throughout the State, he said, wishing everyone for Gowri-Ganesha Festival. S.R. Mahesh, who is also the Tourism Minister, said that a decision was taken earlier itself to see that all class of people will have the opportunity to purchase Silk Saree at discounted rate. However, the model code of conduct and the labour problem forced the postponement of the sale. At this juncture, the CM sanctioned Rs.10 crore. Hence, this scheme was implemented, he added.

Every year only 70,000 sarees are manufactured. Accordingly, the quantity of sale of discounted sarees is less. 1,500 sarees in Mysuru, 1,200 in Channapatna, 1,500 in Bengaluru and 500 in Belagavi have been earmarked. This will be followed by the sale in other KSIC outlets in other parts of the State too, he said.

Thousands of women had gathered in front of the KSIC outlet and by the time the CM arrived, it had started raining and even amidst rain, they purchased the sarees. District Minister G.T. Devegowda & MLC K.T. Srikantegowda were present.

Drizzle in State till Sept. 3rd week

Bengaluru, Sept.12- The heavy rains that lashed Kodagu and neighbouring Kerala resulting in floods and damage to lives and property last month, has slowly petered into a drizzle this month.

This is about one-fifth less than the normal rainfall expected during the season in September, which in short is a deficit rainfall. This is due to dry weather and this will continue even next week. The rains might improve after that, said a report from the Meteorological Department.

The dry weather may affect agriculture activities. In the coming days, there will be mild to normal rain in South Interior Karnataka, said Indian Meteorological Department State in-Charge Director C.S. Patil.

England comfortably beat India

by 118 runs despite tons from K.L. Rahul, Rishabh Pant

England's Alastair Cook, at the end of his last ever match before retiring from Test cricket, raises his cap.

London, Sept.12- India lost the fifth and final Test against England by 118 runs here Tuesday despite heroic resistance from K.L. Rahul and Rishabh Pant, bringing the curtains down on a tour which started as a golden opportunity but ended in a saga of disappointments.

A mediocre England team with a fragile batting line-up won the series by a comprehensive 4-1 margin after India were bowled out for 345 in pursuit of mammoth target of 464.

Making amends for a below-par show in the preceding Tests, Rahul (149 off 224 balls) and Pant (114 off 146 balls) sang the redemption song with attractive centuries to raise visions of an improbable victory before Adil Rashid (2/63 in 15 overs) dashed their hopes with a twin blow.

Rashid bowled a prodigious leg-break that pitched on the rough and clipped Rahul's off-bail and in his next over Pant tried to hoick him for his fifth six only to be holed out by Moeen Ali.

Once the 204-run sixth wicket stand ended, India tried to hang on for a respectable draw but it was of no avail.

Root took the second new ball and his new 'Go To' Man Sam Curran (2/23 in 9 overs) promptly delivered by polishing off the tail with Ishant Sharma and Ravindra Jadeja being removed in quick succession.

Fittingly, it was England's senior-most bowler Jimmy Anderson (3/45 in 22.3 overs), who castled Mohammed Shami to end the match and also surpass Glenn McGrath as the highest wicket-taking pacer in Test match history.

It couldn't have been a more emotional farewell for Alastair Cook as he led the team off the ground amidst a thunderous standing ovation from a knowledgable Oval crowd.

However there were a couple of times when it looked that India could at least earn a respectable draw if not a win.

James Anderson surpasses Glenn McGrath,

becomes the most successful Test fast bowler

London, Sept.12- England fast bowler James Anderson on Tuesday became the most prolific pacer in Test cricket after taking his 564th wicket. He achieved this feat in the fifth Test against India at The Oval.

James Anderson surpassed previous record holder and Australian great Glenn McGrath who had 563 wickets to his name.

Anderson knocked out Mohammed Shami's middle stump as the tourists were bowled out for 345.

Anderson, 36, made his Test debut in 2003 and has played 143 Tests for England. James Anderson dismissed both Shikhar Dhawan (1) and Cheteshwar Pujara (0) in India's second innings.

Former West Indies bowler Courtney Walsh is now third on the pacers' list with 519 wickets. India's World Cup-winning captain Kapil Dev takes the fourth spot with 434 wickets. Anderson's fast bowling partner Stuart Broad is fifth on the list at 432 wickets.

Spin bowlers occupy the top three places on the overall list of Test wicket-takers — Sri Lankan off-spinner Muttiah Muralitharan took 800 wickets, ahead of Australia's Shane Warne (708) and India's Anil Kumble (619).

An evening of Bengali music in city

Mysuru, Sept.12- A small and simple event of Bengali songs took place on Sept.1 at the auditorium of International Youth Hostel, Gokulam. There were eight vocalists in total beginning with invited artiste from Bengaluru Shatabdi Das, an accomplished Rabindrasangeet singer, educated at Vishwabharati Santiniketan and currently a student of Shri Prabuddha Raha. She rendered some difficult numbers from 'puja parjaay' section of Tagore compositions with her voice appeal and dexterity — mentioning the context of each song before rendition. She was followed by Papri Bhattacharyya, a senior vocalist from Mysuru and student of Pt. Ajoy Charaborty, Bhaswati Shome trained in Hindustani classical and specialised in Nazrulgeeti and S.M. Sahadevan known for singing Manna Dey numbers.

Shampa Sharma a newgen singer moved the audience with her folk numbers and Tapash Sankar sang Kishore-da! Shri Anandarup Bhattacharyya (a promising and talented tabla player) and Shri Pulak Mukherjee complimented the renditions with their tabla strokes.

The high quality sound system added to the audio quality of each song and the audience, represnting two community groups in Mysuru (Bangiya Samiti and Bengali Association) remained engrossed with the broad spectrum of Bengali songs.

The event was conceived and presented by Sharmila Ghosh. "It is surely a privilege to be hosting this kind of an event in the cultural capital of a non-Bengali State," she admitted. A retired librarian from Delhi, she chose Mysuru as a post-retirement paradise along with her husband Dr. Hiranmay Ghosh, Advisor with TCS Bengaluru and Visiting Faculty for NIT-Karnataka.
